Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on February 2, 2004 has been entered.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

On page 1 of the specification, the continuing data is missing a provisional application serial number.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 3, 5, 7, 10, 20, and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lang et al (US 6,231,603). Lang anticipates the claim language where the anterior lens with less than 55 diopter power is met by lens (12) of Lang (see column 4, lines 58-68, column 6, lines 4-8, and Figure 3), and the posterior lens as claimed is shown in Figure 5 of Lang; it has a diameter that is larger in diameter than the anterior lens of Lang by inspection of the drawings. Contraction of the ciliary muscles moves the anterior lens such that relative movement of the two lenses occurs.

Claims 1, 3-5, 7, 9, 10, and 15-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Green (US 6,558,420). Green anticipates the claim language where the anterior portion as claimed is met by lens (33) of Green (see Figures 3 and 4 as well as column 2, lines 19-41 and column 4, lines 10-59), and the posterior portion is larger in diameter than the anterior portion (lens (33)) by inspection of Figure 4; lens (33) of Green is measured to be 52 mm across while the posterior lens is 53 mm across. The posterior portion has a positive refractive portion where the lens curvature bows out along the periphery; see Figure 4 where reference (39) points.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lang et al (US 6,231,603) alone. Lang meets the claim language except for the size limitation for the anterior lens as claimed. However, the mere recitation of a size limitation with no reason for such and no comparison with other elements of the lens is considered to be prima facie obvious. This is due to the fact that implants must be sized to the particular patient being able to fit within their eye and function or operate as Lang would want them to function or operate. MPEP 2144.04 set forth the following relevant case law.

In Gardner v. TEC Systems, Inc., 725 F.2d 1338, 220 USPQ 777 (Fed. Cir. 1984), cert. denied, 469 U.S. 830, 225 USPQ 232 (1984), the Federal Circuit held that, where the only difference between the prior art and the claims was a recitation of relative dimensions of the claimed device and a device having the claimed relative dimensions would not perform differently than the prior art device, the claimed device was not patentably distinct from the prior art device.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6 and 11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the present claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant should specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure, including the claims (MPEP 714.02 and 2163.06). Due to the procedure outlined in MPEP 2163.06 for interpreting claims, it is noted that other art may be applicable under 35 USC 102 or 35 USC 103(a) once the aforementioned issue(s) is/are addressed.

Applicant is respectfully requested to provide a list of all copending applications that set forth similar subject matter to the present claims. A copy of such copending claims is respectfully requested in response to this Office action.
